COST OF RUNNING GOVERNMENT DROPS $6,664,000,000 IN A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- The cost of running the United States Government last year amounted to approximately $5,064,000,000, against about $11,728,000,000 in 1919.

The total expenditures outside of payments on the public debt vere revealed to-day in accounts obtained from the daily Treasury

Treasury officials said to-night that while ordinary disbursements had not come down to the $4,000,000,000 mark set by Secretary Houston in his estimate of the revenues needed for future fiscal years expenditures would continue to fall. Gradual liquidation of war claims and expenses, officials declared, explained the drop in expenditures, which, they added, would have been greater but for the additional burdens, such as loans and advances to railroads, imposed on Ordinary receipts for 1920 amounted to $6,431,000,000 in round numbers, as against $6,772,000,000 for the previous year. Collections of income and profits taxes totalled $3,570,000,000 in the last year, compared with $4,337,000,000 in 1919.

Civil bill for galaries of immigration officials led to a spirited discussion in the House to-day.

Mr. Slegel said Commissioner Wallis of the Ellis Island station at New York, had intimated to him here yesterday that he would resign unless provisions were made for increases in salaries, and numbers of immigration officials, he added, had told him "the whole machinery of the immigration service was failing to pieces."

"Commissioner Wallis told me when he learned that $3,000,000 was all the money appropriated for the service that we might as well get some one else to take charge of Ellis Island." Mr. Siegel declared.

Bottom of the Price Hill

TF you have been waiting for lower prices even for much lower prices-what you now are looking for, in reality, are clothes at least as good as you have been accustomed to wear-better if possible.

Your opportunity has come.

This is not a sale. It is a re-marking of clothing prices which should bring you at once to The Man's Shop. The real bottom of the hill has been reached, for the season, in clothes of this character-and it is lower than we had expected it could be.

Things have happened which enable us now to re-mark all the clothing in The Man's Shop at prices considerably below what they actually cost the manufacturing tailors to produce.

The Man's Shop set out to supply a very special type of men's clothes-the best that money could procure and that America and England could produce. It has been conspicuously successful in this effort. It has enjoyed a flourishing and flattering trade.

The tailors who made our American clothes-of the finest in America-recently had on hand a considerable number of suits and overcoats of their best English and American woolens - counterparts of those we had in stock.

To close the year with a clean slate they sold us these suits and overcoats—all they had—at exactly one-half the wholesale prices we had been paying.

It was a splendid opportunity to give an appreciated special service to the patrons of The Man's Shop and thus add to its prestige and good will.

We are giving our customers the full benefit of this reduction to us; and while we had already re-adjusted prices on our stock on hand, to be consistent we have further brought down all the clothes in The Man's Shop, both English and American, to the same scale, except evening clothes and fur-lined overcoats.

Over three-quarters of the suits are of that intermediate light weight which fits them admirably for allthe-year wear, Spring and Summer as well as Winter. Many are quarter and half lined.

Overcoats, in all weights and accepted styles, of finest imported and domestic fabrics, $38, $58 and $68. This includes many of the best coats England produces.

Suits, single and double breasted, of the best English and American woolens—the entire selection of The Man's Shop, from which may be picked a most versatile wardrobe, $32, $42 and $48. Golf Suits, $42 and $48.
